

PROCEEDINGS

of the IPC Constituent Assembly on 16 September 2011, during the 20th IPC International Panorama Conference at the Gettysburg Military Park Museum and Visitor Center in Gettysburg, PA, USA

1. Welcome

Ernst Storm called the meeting to order in the Ford meeting room at the Gettysburg Visitor Center at 5:25 pm. and asks for pardon for that the materials arrived on short notice only.

Present were board members Sanford Wurmfeld, Mimi Colligan, Ernst Storm, Dominique Hanson and Stephan Oettermann, Suzanne Wray, Sara Velas, Thiago Leitao de Souza, Gordon L. Jones, Daniel Libens, Martin Woolner, Sue Boardman, James Phelps, Andy Newman, Patrick Deicher and the following guests: Sandrine Smets, Natasja Peeters.

2. Approval of the Agenda

The participants, who all signed the attendance list, approved the proposed agenda.

3. Report by the President: IPC in the past, tasks for the future

Taking into account the wish to meet not for more than one hour the President limits his introduction to the 'Formalization' memorandum that was available to all conference participants.

IPC started in 1992 as a European Interest Group of seven panoramas to respond the wish to link European panoramas after the political changes in 1989. In 1998 the network was transformed into the International Panorama Conference and English was established as common language. Gratitude is dedicated to the founders of the network and their volunteer work. Now, we have to develop into a formal organisation with structures, statutes and a bank account.

The discussion did not leave any questions open. The point was stressed that soon as many of the present-day IPC participants as possible should join IPC as enrolled members in the new Association.

4. Statutes: main contents, discussion, adoption

The statutes as drafted and previously distributed to the group were discussed after Patrick Deicher outlined the principal aspects of formation of the Association and its structure, including some last minute proposed amendments. These Statutes were adopted unanimously. Special attention was given to the need of protecting not only the use of the name and acronym of IPC, but also of its logo and style.

The 2012 conference is likely to be in Pleven, Bulgaria.

9. Any other business

No other business to attend to, this Constituent Assembly of the formerly IPC volunteers' organisation into a formal Association, as has been decided upon during the 19th IPC Conference in Istanbul in 2010, was adjourned at 6:15 pm, after an enthusiastic expression of thanks to Ernst Storm, Patrick Deicher, and the 1992 founders.
